Lizzy Gür is a sixteen year old pianist and composer.

Netherlands, and is now a student at the JRNCM. She was awarded a distinction in her DipABRSM Piano exam last year and is now principal composer for the National Youth Orchestra, who has played her pieces at several notable venues across the UK

She has been awarded prizes in both performing and composing, and regularly plays in professional settings in and outside of the RNCM - but she also enjoys playing at informal venues such as schools and youth clubs, hoping to inspire other young people to take an interest in music
